

'Creation', Album of Classical Music by the Sol Ensemble

IRAN NEWS ART DESK.

First violinist Bahman Mehabadi

The Sol Ensemble recently brought out an album (in CD and audio-cassette formats) of their performance of pieces by classical composers, including Haydn, Bach, Beethoven, Khachaturian, Gabrieli, Purcel and Rimsky-Korsakov.

According to ISNA, the musicians performing in the ensemble are Bahman Mehabadi (first violin), Poorya Keshavarz and Hooman Akhtari (second and third violins), and Nahid Abtahi who plays the guitar in this album.

Homa Sadr Arhami, in charge of the public relations of the ensemble, says that the Sol music ensemble has exhibited an ascending trend from the analytical and critical perspectives. The ensemble has been playing, performing and producing great pieces by prominent classical composers and despite difficulties it has been successful.

The sixth album is presented to the cultural markets under the management of Bahman Mehabadi. It must be mentioned that constant efforts on the part of the ensemble have yielded graceful results which suggest a kind of cultural and artistic maturity in the selection of the pieces, the coordination and precise programming. No doubt the unique managerial skills will propel this ensemble forward. Therefore we can claim that Sol is one of the few musical groups in the country which is knowingly standing up in presenting the theme of scientific music and is trying to fulfill its dreams with the help of music lovers.

Sol music ensemble, which has been active in music education, holding concerts and producing music for the past twenty years, is constantly trying to innovate and avoid duplicating other musicians' works.

The Sol Ensemble's forthcoming album is titled 'Miniatures'. It should also be mentioned that 'Miniatures', the eighth album by the Sol Ensemble is going through its final production stages. The ensemble's website is: www.solmehabadi.ir & www.sol-music.org